Dear Mr. Armstrong:

Recently my husband and I had the pleasure of touring your campus, under the guidance of Mr. Dave PACK, a very pleasant and courteous young man. We were most impressed with the warmth and cordiality of those we met along the way, and the happy feeling that permeated the campus.

It was indeed rewarding to see the loving care that is being given the lovely old residences. This was especially so for me since I lived in what is now the men's dormitory, at the corner of Terrace Drive and Del Mar, for about three years, in the 1930's. At that time I used to do some secretarial work for Mr. Hulett C. Merritt in the living room of what is now Ambassador Hall.

It would be greatly appreciated if we could receive copies of your publications, "The Plain Truth" and "The Good News of Tomorrow's World". We have thoroughly enjoyed the March issue of "The Plain Truth" and "This is Ambassador College", which were given us at the time of the tour. These will be passed along for others to read.

Sincerely,

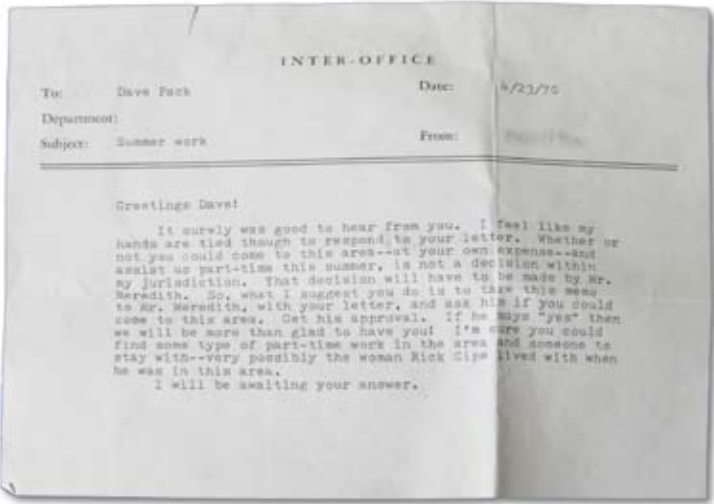

(Mrs.)

Above, excerpts from Mr. Pack's April 1970 letter to the Indianapolis, Indiana, pastor volunteering to work as an unpaid ministerial assistant: "With the shakeups in the Work coming as they have, all the students are up in the air about their summer plans...So, barring a summer assignment...I'd like to propose another idea for this summer. I know that you have at least two other full-time elders in Indianapolis...but I'm wondering if you could use a full-time summer assistant on my own expense?...I'd be on the exact same basis with you as if Pasadena sent me to Indy on assignment. I'll...expect correction like any other assistant would get if assigned to you..." Below, the pastor welcomes the idea, with permission from Church Administration.
